Swanky Pet Hotel

Posted in Hollywag on September 6, 2010 | no responses

It's as close as you can get to The Ritz, The Four Seasons and many other five-star hotels only this soon to be built hotel is for your furry pals.

It will be a 32,000 square foot hotel only for dogs in a swanky area of Los Angeles. The hotel will have private suites, a spa, salon and limousine service. What pooch wants to drive himself there?

The Barkley is expected to open October 25th, and celeb pets will imprint their paws similar to what human celebs do at Grauman's Chinese Theatre.

We'll keep you posted on what celebs and their pets will be there!
