OBEDIENCE TRAINING PROGRAMS

Group Obedience

PUPPY PRE-SCHOOL (8-16 WEEKS OLD)

You've got a new puppy and what that puppy learns during the time between eight and sixteen weeks of age is going to play a major role in what kind of adult dog you will have. This hands-on two-session course covers all the basics, including socialization tips, feeding, house training, basic obedience, handling, problem prevention and "how to speak dog", as well as what to expect down the road as your puppy matures into adolescence and adulthood. Puppy manual and demonstration of advanced training programs included. Questions always welcome!

Personal Training

PRIVATE CONSULTATION

Group obedience classes are great but sometimes you can't fit them into your schedule, or perhaps your dog is not a good candidate for group class. One hour individualized lessons focus on you, your dog, and the skills and behaviors YOU want your dog to learn – from chewing, digging and barking to resource guarding, anxiety/fear issues, dog-to-dog and dog-to-human aggression.

NEWBORN PREPARATION

In this sixty minute appointment, we cover all aspects of preparing your dog for the pending arrival. What to do before baby comes, when baby comes home and after your child's arrival going right through those toddler years! Make this important transition an easy one for both you and your dog.

Residency Programs

Residency Programs, also known as "boot camps" enable your dog to learn at his/her full potential. This approach is based on repetition and focus - as each dog is worked with continuously throughout each day in order to best achieve the desired results. During a Residency Program, your dog will be exposed to many different situations at The Barkley, enabling success when introduced to new settings. Of course, your pet will always receive the excellent 24-hour care and attention The Barkley has come to provide. Consider a Residency Program to increase your dog's rate of learning while making the transition to home stress-free.
